MIT Capital Renewal
Status of MIT Chapel – Kresge Auditorium Projects
Creating the Future of DSL

Capital Renewal

- Chapel and Kresge were among the first 17 buildings the ACR Working Group selected for Rapid Response Studies (RRS).
- RRS were conducted over a 30-60 day period by project teams MIT brought in which included architecture, contractor and sub-contractor specialists.
- Analysis drew upon earlier engineering studies by Vanderweil.
- A dashboard overview was developed for each building involving evaluation of each building system component along with a ranking that determines a time impact for each systems condition – immediate, 1-5 years, and 6-10 years.
Chapel

- RRS created a project to extend the life of this iconic building.
- Project is now underway through February 2015 @ cost of $4.9mil.
- Scope to include rebuilding moat, restoration of stained glass window-wall, roof replacement, rebuild existing skylights, brick repointing, upgrade of interior finishes, replacement of HVAC system, replace plumbing pumps, replace light fixtures, and upgrade fire protection system.
- Some items remain, including organ refurbishment and landscape, for later in the renewal cycle or for fundraising opportunities.
- Services have been relocated in conjunction with Chaplains. Check the Religious Life website @ studentlife.mit.edu/rl.
Kresge Auditorium

- Another iconic Eero Saarinen building, largest auditorium on campus and primary facility for M&T’s program
- An initial scope to address mechanical system upgrades and replacements was approved last spring for $11mil.
- An expanded scope is now under consideration including window wall replacement, structural repairs to the perimeter beam, new perimeter drainage system, plaza brickwork repair and bathroom upgrades.
- Additional work including seating replacement, lighting, finishes, fire system upgrades, acoustic improvements, and organ refurbishment will likely be done later in the renewal process.
- Expected work will require building closure during IAPs and summer.
Crossing the Finish Line: DSL Strategic Plan 2011-2014

• Lots of good work - by 15 teams, 64 members!

• Many Accomplishments, obvious and not-so-obvious

• All work (save 1 team) completed and moved into regular work of the Division

• “Strategic Group” final recommendations reviewed by DSL Department Heads

• Focus is now on Dean’s four 2014-2015 challenges and the four Educational Priorities
Also Coming Next Fall

- Recommendations and DSL Educational Priorities become part of “regular work”
- Followup from Staff Engagement Focus Groups (Team #14)
- Chartering of DSL Strategic Committees
- Final Report on DSL Strategic Plan

DSL’s Educational Priorities for Our Students:
1. Intra & Interpersonal Development
2. Social, Emotional & Physical Wellness
3. Citizenship & Civility
4. Intellectual Innovation & Curiosity
