- April 10 Implementation Team Leaders Meeting
  - Connectors for Stakeholder Groups
  - New organizational map
  - To start monthly reporting on May 1
  - Introduce Assessment into practices.

- Focus is now on
  - Engaging appropriate “expert” members (e.g. students, non-DSL staff)
  - Facilitating the work of the 15 Implementation Teams
  - Introducing Assessment and Data Collection
  - Assisting in the FSILG Strategic Plan effort
  - Planning for 1 or more new Implementation Teams
Student Engagement Legend
GREEN – Undergrad Interest
CARDINAL – Grad Interest
BLUE – UA & GSC Membership offer
PURPLE – Considering engagement
Team 10 – Residential Network Service

Status: GREEN [or YELLOW (issues) or RED (need help)]

Charge: The Residential Network Service Team is charged by the DSL strategic planning initiative to improve residential network service to the same levels as academic buildings.

Team Members – John McDonald (Leader), Bob Ferrara, Colleen Honohan, Mark Reagan

Snapshot - No roadblocks, proceeding nicely. Interim solution for 12 FSILG buildings complete. Long-term solution on MIT fiber - FSILG Phase 1 (design) complete, with Phase 2 (construction) to start in the spring.

Guidelines for Team Members – Staff, Students

• Commit to attend and come prepared to team meetings
• Bring your full participation
• Maintain confidentiality. Assume all information is confidential unless explicitly stated otherwise
• You are invited as one who will consider what’s best for the broader MIT community, not as a member of a specific or narrow department or constituency
• Stay positive and respectful, remain open to the ideas of others
• Listen accurately – check for understanding
• If uncertain, please ask the Team Leader for clarification
• Use this as a learning opportunity
• Be future oriented and solutions-based
• Recognize team accomplishments, both small and large
