

Chocolate City 2022-2023 Action Plan

- Once the first year students submit their housing forms, and Chocolate City Housing Chairs receive the list of students who ranked our brotherhood in their top 5, we will email every first year on this list, asking them to sign up for an info session to learn more about Chocolate City.
 - First year students who rank CC in their top 5, but do not sign up and show up to an info session will not have an opportunity to be in Chocolate City.
- Every student who signs up and shows up to the info session to learn more about our brotherhood will be entered into a randomizer “rumble” to determine admittance into Chocolate City, under the circumstance that more individuals have interest in CC than there is space.
 - Randomizer Rumble Rules:
 - For students that rank CC as their first housing option, their name will be entered 5 times into the draw. For students that rank CC as their 2nd housing option, their name will be entered 4 times into the draw. For students that rank CC as their 3rd housing option, their name will be entered 3 times into the draw. For students that rank CC as their 4th housing option, their name will be entered 2 times into the draw. And finally, for students that rank CC as their 5th option, their name will be entered once into the draw.
 - The draw will consist of x rounds, where x represents the amount of students we have space for in Chocolate City. When a name is drawn, they will be offered admission into CC, and the rest of their entries will be removed from the draw. This will continue through the xth round.
 - After students are offered admission to CC, they will have 48 hours to respond with Y/N.
 - If yes, we will forward their names and room assignments to Housing
 - If no, they will be dropped from the list, and another round of random drawing will take place with the remaining pool of candidates to decide housing assignments.
