AWARD SCORING – Bridge Builder Award:

Does the nomination make sense? Does the nominated individual or group fit the award?

9 – 10 points  The nominated individual or group has gone above and beyond the baseline criteria for this award. This may be due to: showing a commitment to exploration of diverse cultures, education about challenging issues, and/or social justice; creating impact beyond the initial targeted community; more actively seeking out partnerships; going beyond what is needed for the program or initiative to just be good; and/or other items or points that stand out to you.

6 – 8 points  The award description fits both the individual or group that has been nominated and the reason(s) why they have been nominated. The nominated individual’s or group’s actions accurately reflect the spirit of the award. The nominee has met the baseline criteria for this award:

- Campaign, initiative, or program is clearly articulated and the campus, local community, or global need that it addressed is stated.
- Collaboration has occurred and is clearly stated in the nomination between the nominee and other organizations.
- The nominee has worked to raise awareness, share knowledge, and provide solutions around the issue/topic being addressed by their program.

3 – 5 points  The award description kind of fits the individual or group that has been nominated. This may be due to lack of information within the nominator’s description, an example(s) that do not reflect the spirit of the award, and/or other reasons

2 or below  The award description does not fit the individual/group or their actions. They should not receive the award.
