

YOUR GUIDE TO FOOD @ MIT

Brought to you by the Food Security Action Team
Last updated: August 2021

FOOD MAP

Want to know where food places are on campus or what grocery stores and restaurants are nearby? Check out this QR code for a map of nearby locations!

Most locations are close so grab your own reusable bag and get outside to help you stay active and cut down on waste!

FOOD ACCESS

The ARM coalition has put together a nifty page of resources for students to know what they have access to at MIT to help them get access to food. Everything from financial assistance to student blogs on how to eat on a budget.

SWIPESHARE

Did you know students can donate their guest meal swipes to other students? Go here to donate meals and here or talk with a S^3 dean to request meal swipes.

LATE NIGHT

Missed dinner? No worries! Stop by Maseeh or Simmons for late night dining. Check out the late night section on the dining website for hours info.

MIT DINING

For all info on meal plans, dining halls, and hours of operation, be sure to stop by dining.mit.edu.

DAILY TABLE

A local nonprofit community grocery store that provides affordable, nutritious food, offers free delivery, and accepts SNAP.

FARMERS MARKET

Support local farmers and pick up some seasonal produce at the Central Square Farmers Market, running Mondays until November. Check out their website for more info.

GROCERY SHUTTLE

MIT offers a shuttle service to local grocery stores. See the MIT facilities website for more info.

FOOD WASTE

Learn how to dispose of food waste and recycle food delivery containers with Waste Watchers' handy flyer at the QR code to the left.

NEED THE LINK?

All linked resources on this sheet can be found on <https://linktr.ee/food.at.mit>